

Outcomes of the Act on Regulation of the Transmission of Specified Electronic Mail Enforcement

- Under the opt-out regulation, there were only 6 administrative orders in six years, but under the opt-in regulation, 54 administrative orders in nine years.
- Under the opt-out regulation, it was difficult to prove the fact of violation. However, under opt-in regulation, it has become comparatively easy by utilizing the honeypots to factually prove the violations.
- MIC has strengthened law enforcement.
